Controversial Book

Author: Lori Vander Ark-DeBartolo, a book that changes lives and opens eyes...

A book that begins to shed rays of light into the dark side of the corrupt elite within the CIA, FBI, local, state, and federal politics where that secret group is taking America in a covert plan of their destruction of America as the wool remains over the eyes of most Americans. The author exposes the facts of corruption within American government as the author aims for peaceful government reform in her story told in volume one of a three part memoir series of secrets. Purchase your copy of the book titled; I Remember Heaven Before Earth and experience behind the scenes reading on what goes on in areas of life, community and government most believe do not exist from the elite American leaders and the personal direction those leaders are taking America, "the roots" of their destructive ideologies and hate of America.

As a human rights activist the author shares her story of her life within America's CIA and the American human trafficking system that brought her from the Dutch Caribbean islands onto a cruise ship as a baby. The author's kidnappers part of a large human trafficking system backed by the CIA were actually caught when entering back into the U.S. with an undocumented baby not of their own. Chuck and Cindy Vander Ark (the kidnappers) were held in jail by Florida security for three weeks as the CIA and President Nixon waved power and control over Florida government, American law, International law. Read about the family camouflaged within the Dutch Calvinist religion and government CIA connections that would raise her. The author has a breakthrough of memories into reincarnation and the exposure of secrets revealed as she begins the journey of telling all she knows about the past. Pursuing her quest to expose the corrupt within government and society into the importance of human rights and telling the truth. More shocking news? The author exposed on her author blog on Amazon.com and will be writing of in volume II about a corrupt Georgia neighborhood that began development in 2004-2010 that many homeowners accepted trade deals from the builder/developer on their homes purchased to become involved with drugging and kidnappings of the continued human trafficking of specific heritage of white women and children whom are then transferred and brought to enemies of the U.S., such as Saudi Arabia.
