How It Works

The process is simple:

1. As soon as you complete delivery of your service, your customer texts their invoice number to the number you publish. You will receive your own branded payment line.

2. They will receive a text response with a telephone number (which we provide) and a unique payment code.

3. They call the number provided in the text message, input the payment code and follow the prompts to enter their payment amount and credit card information.

4. After the call is complete, an invoice payment receipt is sent to their mobile phone via a text message.

5. You receive confirmation of each payment (including transaction information), which is deposited to your merchant account. This information is provided via email and it's available online.
